Pillar Rx

BCBSM Prescription Savings Program

Eastpointe's BCBSM medical plans include PillarRx, which connects you with drug manufacturer assistance to help you save money on your copayments for certain high-cost medications

If you (or any of your covered dependents) are eligible, you will be contacted by PillarRx (either by phone or mailing) to provide details about the plan, answer any questions you might have and steps to follow in order to take advantage of this cost savings

After you enroll in the program, you will save money by using manufacturers assistance to reduce or eliminate your costs to CERTAIN high-cost medications (including brand and specialty medications). If participating, members will never pay more than the standard applicable copay

If your medication is part of the program, participation is mandatory. If you have been selected by PillarRx to enroll in the program and you do not participate, you will pay a 30% coinsurance for the prescription (rather than the standard applicable copay)

Please note: PillarRx does not apply to all medications – only certain high-cost medications, as well as some diabetic medications. If you are trying to fill a prescription and the cost is above the normal copay structure – it may be due to the medication being a part of PillarRx. Please reach out to BCBSM's customer service (the number on the back of your card) prior to filling the medication to inquire why the cost is different. They will be able to tell you if the medication is a part of PillarRx.

Flexible Savings Accounts

Flexible Spending Accounts

Employee Benefits Concepts, Inc. (EBC) will continue to be the FSA provider for 2025

Two account types:

❖ Health Care FSA

- Used to reimburse for qualified medical expenses not covered by the health plan
- Annual contribution maximum for 2025 is $3,300 (an increase of $100 annual due to IRS increase)

❖ Dependent Care FSA

- Used to reimburse for qualified dependent care expenses
- Annual contribution maximum for 2025 is $5,000

If you wish to participate in the FSA for 2025 you must select the coverage on the enrollment form. Enrollment in the FSA does not carryover from year to year.

Flexible Spending Accounts

What's a Health Care Reimbursement Account (HCRA)?

Health Care Reimbursement Accounts let you pay for medical, dental and vision expenses that are not covered by insurance with tax-free dollars. They help you stretch your money and reduce your federal, state and Social Security taxes. How much you save depends on how much you pay in income tax.

When you enroll in the HCRA, you will receive a debit card—with one swipe, you can pay eligible expenses at the point-of-service. Just use the card like you would a credit card.

You can put up to $3,300 into the HCRA in 2025. The full amount will be available January 1, 2025.

Common FSA Eligible Expenses

• Acne treatments (OTC)	• Diabetic monitors, test kits, strips and supplies	• Blood pressure monitor
• Diaper rash ointments and creams	• Eyeglasses/Contact lenses (prescription)	• First aid kits (OTC)
• Sunscreen with SPF 15+ and "broad spectrum", sunburn creams and ointments (OTC)	• Lactation Supplies: creams/ointment, pad/shields, storage bags/bottles & breast pump	• Crutches, canes, walkers or like equipment (purchase or rental)
• Medical, Dental & Vision (coinsurance, copay & deductible)	• Aspirin or other pain reliever (OTC)	• CPAP and Supplies
• Allergy & sinus medicine (OTC)	• Cold & flu medicine (OTC)	• Flu shots
• Ambulance and emergency health services	• Counseling for treatment of a medical condition (marriage counseling is not eligible)	• Hand Sanitizer
• Fertility & infertility treatment (for employee, spouse or dependent)	• Hearing aids and batteries	• COVID testing
• Orthodontia	• Teeth grinding prevention devices	• Lasik

Note: The IRS determines which expenses can be reimbursed by an HCRA. For a complete list of federal eligible expenses go to <https://www.isafeds.com/explore/hcfsa/expenses>

Flexible Spending Accounts

What's a Dependent Care Reimbursement Account (DCRA)?

Dependent Care Reimbursement Accounts let you pay for eligible dependent care expenses with tax-free dollars. Most child and elder care and companion services are eligible expenses too. They help you stretch your money and reduce your federal, state and Social Security taxes. How much you save depends on how much you pay in income tax.

Your dependents must be:

- Under age 13 or mentally or physically unable to care for themselves.
- Spending at least 8 hours a day in your home.
- Eligible to be claimed as a dependent on your federal income tax.
- Receiving care when you are at work and your spouse (if you are married) is at work or searching for work, is in school full-time, or is mentally or physically disabled and unable to provide the care.

You can put up to $5,000 into the Dependent Care FSA in 2025. You can be reimbursed up to the amount that you have in your account.

In 2025, the most you can put into the DCRA is $5,000. But if both you and your spouse work, the IRS limits your maximum contribution to a DCRA.

- If you file separate income tax returns, the annual contribution amount is limited to $2,500 each for you and your spouse.
- If you file a joint tax return and your spouse also contributes to a DCRA, your family's combined limit is $5,000.
- If your spouse is disabled or a full-time student, special limits apply.
- If you or your spouse earn less than $5,000, the maximum is limited to earnings under $5,000.

Note: Eligible dependent care expenses can either be reimbursed through the DCRA or used to obtain the federal tax credit. You can't use both options to pay for the same expenses. Usually the DCRA will save more money than the tax credit. But to find out what is best for you and your family, talk to your tax advisor or take a look at IRS publication 503 at <http://www.irs.gov/publications/p503/index.html>. If you contribute to a DCRA, you must file an IRS Form 2441 with your Federal Income Tax Return. Form 2441 is simply an informational form on which you report the amount you pay and who you paid for day care.
